

The effects of investing in a new vessel!

New building? – Type of financing? – Which flag?

There are many questions when deciding to invest in a vessel. Baltic Maritime Market intentions with this Seminar are to give the right answers to these questions.

The business cycle is booming, but in what direction will the future bring us.

The price of Second hand tonnage is higher than ever and is approaching the price of a new building. Financial institutions have been very active in lending to the shipping industry but are the freight market future as bright as it is looks?
